THE EARTH REFORMED

REDEEMED WILL NOT BE IDLE THROUGH ETERNITY SAYS MR. KNOX

"Those accounted worthy of heaven will be far different beings than some people suppose, who think of them as whiffs of smoke, sitting upon a cloud playing harps century after century," said Evangelist Philip L. Knox in his discourse at Evangel Hall, 115 South San Fernando Road, last Saturday night. He added that those redeemed from this earth will be real beings, that they will work, eat and sleep, and that heaven, instead of being an ethereal expanse somewhere in the distant realms of space, will be brought to this earth.

The evangelist went on to explain that while the earth that now is will be destroyed by fire, the materials of which it is compoesd will be reformed into a new earth far more beautiful than the present. He read numerous scriptures in support of his statements.

"The day will come," said the speaker, "when 'the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat,' for 'the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up,' as we read in 2 Peter 3:10-12. There is no better way to purify a thing than by fire. God will literally melt this earth. Then he will re-create it more beautiful than ever. God has not told us he will make all new things, but he does say, 'Behold, I make all things new.' 'For behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth.'

"To be idle throughout eternity would be to be miserable throughout eternity. God made us to be industrious people. But in the new earth work will not be difficult, as it is here. It will be a pleasure. Christ is himself preparing mansions for his people now, in the beautiful capital city, the new Jerusalem, which is to be transported to this earth, as we are told in Revelation 21:1-4. The streets of this city will be of transparent gold, pure as crystal, and its foundations of beautifully colored stones. What must the mansions be like, if the streets are of gold? You have building restrictions in your cities here, and Christ would not build dwellings upon golden streets less beautiful than their surroundings. That city, according to the dimensions given in the Apocalypse, will be 1500 miles in circumference, larger than the entire state of Arizona.

"The redeemed will have country homes as well, and these they will build themsevles, for we read in Isaiah 65: 21, 22· 'And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpents' meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord.'

"We may amass a fortune here, making ourselves comfortable, but if we lose eternal life, missing endless years of the greatest joy the human mind can imagine, we have lost all. Those who know what is before them in the earth made new, who willingly turn their backs upon it for a few paltry dollars here, are using poor judgment. Soon will be fulfilled Christ's promise in the sermon on the mount, 'The meek shall inherit the earth.'"

"Capital and Labor" was the subject at Evangel Hall Sunday night, Pastor E. E. Andross being speaker. He described present-day conditions; the wealth of the world being concentrated in the hands of a few men, and the increasingly insistent demands of organized labor being made to meet conditions. Commenting upon the prediction of Isaiah 2: 2, 7, that "in the last days" the "land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures," he said that in the 359 years from 1492 to 1850 the world's production of gold was about three billion dollars, while in the one year of 1909 the production of gold in the world was five hundred million dollars and in 1914 $455,000,000. The increase in the world's wealth has been tremendous in the last 100 years, he said.

Selfishness and greed will cause still greater distress in the world than has yet been seen, the speaker said, adding that Daniel 12.1 predicts a time of trouble in our day "such as never was since there was a nation." The only safety, he said,

AT GLENDALE HIGH

CIVIC CENTER DISCUSSED—MR. ROOT SPEAKS—BASKET-BALL TO-MORROW

"Resolved: That a Civic Center should be established in Glendale," was the question debated by six students in Miss Terry's Senior Oral English class Monday.

Considerable difficulty was at first experienced in finding champions for the negative side of the question. When the teams had been lined up for the impromptu discussion, Harold Venske, Willard Learned and Kenneth Beldin represented the affirmative, and Harold Nye, C. Weaver and Donald Phillips formed the negative team.

The affirmative team pointed to the wonderful achievements of civic centers in other cities. They declared that Glendale's young people are starving for mental and physical recreation, and that the municipality should be the overseer of whatever steps are taken to furnish our boys and girls with clean, wholesome sports and amusements.

The negative team declared that many Glendale citizens are opposed to making further investments which would add to the present taxes. They declared that the movies furnish enough amusement to keep our people from wandering to the city.

As this was a no-decision affair, both sides felt sure that they had won the day.

W. D. Root of the English department was the principal speaker Saturday at a meeting of the Oral Arts and Debating Association of Los Angeles. His subject was: "The Ethics of Inter-scholastic Debating." Mr. Root's long experience as a debating coach fits him particularly to speak on this subject. There are few debating instructors in the south who are his equal in developing raw material into full-fledged lawyers.

Principal Moyse has received an issue of the Columbia Spectator from Columbia University, where Miss Helen M. Darsil and Miss Ethel Flood are attending the Teachers College on a leave of absence from Glendale High School. Miss Flood, according to this paper, has been elected secretary of the Secondary Club of the teachers college.

It was announced yesterday from the Explosion offices that the South Pasadena-Glendale basketball game would be played Wednesday on the home grounds.

This is the game that was postponed from Saturday on account of the storm, and should be witnessed by a large crowd, since it is to be played in the middle of the week. Glendale High boosters, who have been denying that school spirit is waning, will be given an opportunity to prove their statements. The band will be there. This fact alone should put a couple of hundred rooters on the bleachers.

Great Battle Rages in Neighboring Mountains

As another day dawned in the west, dark and dreary, we commenced our journey for the front aboard a battle-scarred Ford.

Accompanying the writer were a number of Glendale's foremost citizens. Guided by Earl Brown, a corporal in the army, there followed closely Kenneth Beldin, well-known newspaper magnate,, Milton Brown, the son of a wealthy and well-known hardware dealer, Wendell Beldin, son of the millionaire tin king, and Harold Latter, retired banker and capitalist.

As the shells burst here and there, we wondered if we should ever see home again, but our valiant leader kept urging us on, assuring us that we were perfectly safe. The snow was too soft any way to do us much bodily harm.

After charging the steep incline at Echo Mountain, which was taken with sanguinary loss of breath, we began a steady advance along the main line of the transmountain railway. Many small bands of guerrillas were engaged and driven off, and hardships were encountered on every hand.

When at last we had occupied the position at Inspiration Point (after leaving a small detachment at Ye Alpine Village), we stopped to partake of nourishment and participate in another battle, which raged for almost an hour. The enemy was composed of several of the fair sex who were very accurate in aiming those snowballs. Several brave soldiers were carried off mortally wounded but soon recovered from the shock. The time came when we had to retreat to our tents for mess. As we descended the battle front,

AWAITS RESULT OF PEACE SPEECH

PRESIDENT BELIEVES HIS PLANS WILL APPEAL TO BELLIGERENTS WHEN FULLY UNDERSTOOD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Wilson is now waiting to hear how the Belligerents receive his peace pronouncement. He anticipates objections, but feels as he did with the peace note, that the speech will appeal stronger after it has had time to seep into the minds of the governments and the people.

MAY TRANSFER VERNON FRANCHISE

ED MAIER'S CHARGE OF "CROOKED BASEBALL" AGAINST LEAGUE MAY LEAD TO CHANGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The transfer of the Vernon franchise to some other city, possibly Pasadena, is being hinted as a possible step by the Pacific Coast league as a result of Ed Maier's charge of "crooked baseball" against the league.

FUEL FAMINE ACUTE

COAL SHORTAGE IN LOS ANGELES—NO RELIEF IN SIGHT —PRICES ARE HIGH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The fuel famine is acute, and no relief is expected for a fortnight. Coal is selling at $17 a ton, wood at $16 a cord and coke at $18 a ton. The maximum amount of coal sold to one purchaser was a quarter of a ton. The last coal received was shipped from Colorado, the freight being $7.25 a ton.

PERSHING WITHDRAWAL UNDER WAY

UNITED STATES TROOPS COMING OUT OF MEXICO, SAY ARMY OFFICIALS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Pershing's withdrawal is under way. The outposts have been drawn in and the northern march will begin immediately, officials say. It is not believed that the arms embargo will be lifted. No definite date for the departure of Ambassador Fletcher for Mexico City has been set.

The Federal employment bureau is completing plans with the war department to find employment for returning militiamen.

SCHOOL LEGISLATION

SOME BILLS INTRODUCED TO-DAY AFFECT SCHOOLS OF STATE—WANT TO RAISE APPROPRIATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Some of the new bills introduced to-day are: "Raising the elementary school appropriation from $15 to $20 per pupil per year"; "Requiring elementary school to remain open 180 days each year"; "Limiting teachers' work to 8 hours"; "Arranging children's hours as follows: kindergarteners, 3 hours, children under 8 years, 4 hours, children over 8, 6 hours." A bill was also introduced to-day prohibiting the publishing of race track form charts.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY CHEERS WILSON

PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES GIVEN SPONTANEOUS OVATION AT MANCHESTER, ENGLAND

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 23.—The eyes of capital and labor throughout Europe focused on the sixteenth annual conference of the British Labor party here to-day. Mention of President Wilson's name in the opening of the conference brought forth an ovation which lasted for five minutes. The cheering was spontaneous as the presiding officer intended only to mention the peace negotiations.

What labor shall demand after the greatest war in history, promises to be the clear-cut issue of the conference. When demobilization throws hundreds of thousands of workers back into the industrial field the unions will demand that the government find work for every man who left his job on account of the war.

Many delegates are demanding immediate negotiations for peace, but this element has little support.

FIGHT OVER SUNDAY MOVIES

FILM MEN ARE TELLING NEW YORK LEGISLATURE THEIR SIDE OF STORY TO-DAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The big fight of the movie men to win the right to give Sunday shows came to a head here to-day when film men from all over the state gathered to tell the legislature their side of the story. Churches throughout the state are leading the fight against the Sunday shows.

COMMITS SUICIDE

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF CASA VERDUGO TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

The scores of friends of Andrew Robertson of 925 Stocker street were shocked at the gruesome news that he had shot himself through the head with fatal effect, Tuesday morning about eleven o'clock in the orchard on the Judge Ross estate.

Andy Robertson as he was familiarly known was born in Edinborough, Scotland, 49 years ago and had been a resident of North Glendale for a number of years. Three years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Louisa Stuter, who was a well known teacher of music in North Glendale.

The cause of Mr. Robertson's deplorable act was ill health caused by a serious illness from ptomaine poisoning several months ago from which he never fully recovered. In a note left to his wife he said that he feared his illness would cause him to be an invalid throughout his life and he was taking his life in order not to be a burden to her.

The body was discovered about half past eleven Tuesday forenoon and taken to the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors where the funeral will be held, probably on Thursday forenoon. The services will be under the auspices of the Golden West Knight Templars, Lodge No. 43 and services will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church.

ELKS TO BUILD HOME

Glendale Lodge of Elks, No. 1289, held a very largely attended meeting last night, when the building committee submitted its financial plan to the lodge, which was approved, and the committee were instructed to proceed with the plan as given. Building plans were submitted by several of the largest architects, but no definite plan for the building was decided upon. A great deal of enthusiasm was evidenced and the lodge hopes to have the building completed during 1917. The plans as submitted by the financial committee admits of an expenditure of $40,000 and the new home of the Elks, when completed, will be a credit to Glendale. A visiting brother from Minneapolis greatly encouraged the lodge by his remarks relative to the new home his lodge had built five years ago. R. D. Clements resigned as secretary of the lodge, as he is going to Arizona, and Willis M. Kimball was elected secretary for the unexpired term.

SOUTH DAKOTA SOCIETY PICNIC

The South Dakota State Society will hold its annual mid-winter picnic at Sycamore grove, Los Angeles, on Saturday, January 27. Coffee will be served from 12 to 1 o'clock, followed by short speeches and musical numbers. Everyone is cordially invited and a large attendance is expected. C. B. Johnson is president of the South Dakota State Society and James S. Bishop secretary.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday was a great day with us. The Sunday School was well attended and the morning praise service equally so. Brother Cole preached on "The Church and the Lame Man." Among other wise sayings was this: "The Christian religion is the only thing that troubles itself about trouble." The saloon and the distillery do not worry about or seek to alleviate the misery they cause, but the church does. The lame man is ever at the "Gate Beautiful," seeking our alms, but if the church is true to its mission of service the misery will be relieved. In the evening "Preparedness" was the theme, the parable of the ten virgins being used as the scripture setting. Don't worry about being prepared to die. If you are prepared to live you are always ready to die when God calls. Don't bother your head about when Christ's second coming is to be, or spend any time debating the subject. As far as we are concerned His second coming is when we are called by death to meet him. This is what we should be always ready for.

On Thursday evening the formal reception to the pastor, Elder Clifford A. Cole, and his family will be given. Every member and friend of the church is expected to be present. Also all the resident ministers and their wives . The church building will be beautifully decorated for the occasion, a fine program of addresses and music will be given and refreshments will be served.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN

THEME OF EVANGELIST HABBICK AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH LAST EVENING

There have been many things in our experience as the years have gone by that we did not understand, which to-night are clear and bright. Things which God has seen fit to reveal to our knowledge later.

We are coming up to the question of the Unpardonable Sin. And some have lost their reason in considering it; some say it is UNTHINKABLE. And let me say parenthetically, that I believe we are on the eve of another outpouring, a wonderful outpouring of God's Spirit toward man, in elucidating the Holy Scriptures. To continue, others wonder if they have committed the unpardonable sin, and still others get into a wilderness of doubt and unbelief striving to fathom these depths. But the Scriptures are very clear and plain on this subject and let me read the Scriptures having to do with this sin.

Matt. 12:24-29. "Then was brought to him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb, and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. . . . But when the Pharisees heard it, they said This fellow dost not cast out devils but by Beelzebub, the prince of devils. And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? . . . He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men, but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come."

I would also call your attention to the teaching found in Mark 3:22-30. My friends, if the Holy Spirit wrote this book He is the one who is going to explain it, to elucidate the things of the Spirit. As Christ said: You can talk about or speak against me and the Father, but you cannot speak against the Holy Spirit. That is plain enough. In other words, there are some things you can say against me or mine that I will forgive and forget. But there is one thing that if you do in my house I will not forgive, that I would shoot you down for, and while the Law might protect you in a sense I would be upheld, for in the minds of right-thinking people. So, there are sins you can commit, murded even, that God will forgive, but, hear me, there are some things if you do in God's sight, you are going to die for, and die forever. What? you say. Yes, I say, die FOREVER. The second death is a consciousness of being separated forever from God, from all life, from all hope. And God will vindicate His honor.

During the prevalency of infidelity in America, after the reign of terror in France, Newberry, New York, was remarkable for its abandonment to unbelief. Through the influence of "Blind Palmer" there was formed a Druidical society, so called, which had a high priest and met at stated times to uproot and destroy all true religion. They descended sometimes to acts the most infamous and blasphemous. Thus, for instance, at one of their meetings they burned the Bible, partook of a mock sacrament, and one of the number, with the approval of the rest, administered it to a dog.

Now, mark what happened:

In the evening, he who administered this mock sacrament was attacked with a violent inflammatory disease. His inflamed eyeballs were protruded from their sockets, his tongue was swollen and he died before the following morning, in great bodily and mental agony. Another of the party was found dead in his bed the next morning.

A third, who had been present, fell in a fit and died immediately; and three others were drowned a few days afterwards. In short, within five years from the time the Druidical society was formed, all the original members met their death in some strange or unnatural manner. There were thirty-six of them in all, and of these, two were starved to death, seven drowned, eight shot, five committed suicide, seven died on the gallows, one was frozen to death, and three died accidentally. Of these statements there is good proof; they

TOO MUCH PUBLICITY

Publicity is a good thing if it is directed in the right way. Sometimes too much publicity works an injury to a cause and to persons. The county of Los Angeles is well prepared to take care of juvenile cases, and it is of course the intention of those in charge of the work to do the very most they can to aid the young people who need the protection of the law.

The boy or the girl who is to receive the best and most lasting aid is the boy or girl who can receive such aid in a quiet and helpful way. The child that needs the attention of the juvenile officers needs just such attention as could be given by a father and mother, and not an attention that is connected with harmful publicity.

Juvenile officers are too anxious to gain credit for the work they are accomplishing, so they allow the names of their charges to be paraded before the public, with a result that it would have been better if these young people had escaped the notice of the officers.

It is right to do good and it is the purpose of the Los Angeles Juvenile Department to do good, but the good will not be done by allowing pictures and sensational accounts of these young people to appear in the city papers.

The child who is thoughtless and wayward in habits may develop into a man of worth in a community, and it is an injustice to label a young person with sensational publicity accounts, the records of which haunt them through life.

CONGRESS ADVANCES ON WHITE HOUSE

Congress is donning its white vest and swallow tail to-day preparatory to moving into the White House for a few hours this evening for the annual Congressional reception given by President and Mrs. Wilson. It always marks the largest gathering in Washington of Congressional talent, abetted by the beauty of their wives.

At a special meeting of the committee on rules in both houses to-day the following resolutions were reported out and acted upon immediately to serve as guidance at the reception to-night:

Absolute limit on all debate of any legislative subject, thirty seconds.

There shall be no party slanders uttered or political scandals aired.

No time limit on discussion by the wife of one Congressman on the dress of the wife of another Congressman.

That every confidence is held in the ability of Senator Lewis' 1917 model kaftan to make a sensational hit.

That executive sessions of members in the state dining room where refreshments will be served, shall be limited to forty-five minutes.

MILROSE INDOOR MEET TO BRING OUT HIGH-CLASS STARS

The annual indoor athletic meet of the Milrose Athletic Club, which will be staged to-morrow night in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York, will bring out a classy field of entrants.

Among others who will compete will be Robert Simpson, provided he can leave his studies at the University of Missouri long enough, Fred Murray, California's sensational hurdler, who recently became a resident of New York, also will be there for his first appearance in an indoor meet.

Simpson never has played the indoor hurdle game to any great extent, but it would be considered remarkable if a man who can do the 120-yard outdoor barriers in 14 3-5 seconds couldn't hop the 70-yard sticks in something near record time. He has a world's mark of 9 2-5 seconds at which to shoot, so there is little likelihood of his smashing any record.

Murrays' first appearance on the hard gymnasium floors of the east will be watched with interest. Murray is one of the finest sprinters ever developed. In a hurdle race of seventy yards he should be virtually unbeatable. He also expects to do a little weight throwing.

In California, where Murray made his home before clubbing with the New York athletes, they don't have indoor meets, for the sufficient reason that there's too much summer to make it necessary.

Besides these two stars several other men of national reputation have sent in their entries. The meet promises to be one of the fastest indoor affairs in recent years.

CENTRALIZATION OF THOUGHT

System in all kinds of work is what produces rapidity and accuracy. Centralization of thought lies at the foundation of system. The man whose thoughts are rambling will never perform work in a systematic manner.

It is important that young people when acquiring an education learn to concentrate their thoughts upon the subject in hand.

The human mind should be trained early in life to think quickly and accurately. For a person to come to conclusions carelessly on important questions indicates lack of systematic concentration of thought. The trouble is so many people have formed the careless habit of acting and then thinking.

SAYS WATER SURVEY IN 4 STATES WILL TAKE 503 YEARS

It will take 503 years to make a complete survey of the waters of Alaska, California, Washington and Oregon, according to estimates made by Supt. E. Lester Jones, of the U. S. Coast & Geodetic Survey. The estimates are based on progress made with the present facilities. It will take 333 years to complete the survey of Alaska water and 170 years to chart the waters of Washington, Oregon and California, he says.

C. E. CONCERT

A program of great interest will be given on Friday, January 26, at the First Congregational church of Glendale. The best talent available has been secured for the occasion. Cecil Randall, our well-known young violinist, will again delight the audience with his mastery of the violin. Richard Berry, the talented young high school boy whose wonderful playing has astonished so many, will take part. Miss Eugenie Bean, a reader of high standing, will render several selections. Miss Charlotte Davis, who has a very sweet contralto voice, will give a solo, and the popular male quartet of the First Congregational Church will also furnish numbers.

PENROSE FORCES FIGHT FOR PENNSYLVANIA STATE CONTROL

Pennsylvania's Legislature reassembled Monday with the power of the so-called Boss, United States Senator Boies Penrose, leader of the Republican organization since Matthew Stanley Quay died in 1904, in the balance. By electing Richard J. Baldwin speaker of the House three weeks ago Penrose men defeated the opposition led by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh and the Vares.

The speakership was only incidental to the battle. The real struggle was for control of the state organization and control of next year's primaries, when candidates are to be nominated for governor, congress, the legisalture. Armed with the veto power, Governor Brumbaugh may spoil enemy plans. Penrose must get a two-thirds vote to override a veto.

Penrose lieutenants have been talking "investigation" and "impeachment" of the governor. Declarations that he will be "Sulzerized" have been made more or less openly. Assemblyman Isadore Stern, of Philadelphia, has repeatedly declared he will introduce impeachment proceedings.

PRESIDENT NOW SEES CONGRESSMAN EN MASSE, NOT INDIVIDUALLY

The Rooseveltian practice of seeing a maximum number of Congressmen in a minimum space of time, has been adopted by President Wilson. Members of Congress aren't very keen about the new system.

Instead of going in individually and spending from five minutes to half an hour with the President alone, Representatives and Senators now go into the President's office in a group of from three to twenty. Roosevelt adopted this practice when he was President.

The President passes from one to the other disposing of all of them in jig time, as compared with the old system.

In addition the President sees his callers now in the afternoon making it even more difficult for Congressmen to get in for they have to leave the floor of the capitol in order to confer with the Executive.

But the President is behind in his work and he has to clear up the callers quickly in order to get to the stack of government papers piled high on his desk.

FUGITIVES CAN'T GET TO EUROPE FROM THE U. S. ANY MORE

American fugitives from justice can't escape to Europe any more. They have to prove too many things about themselves that it's inconvenient to prove before they can get either in or out.

Probably the only Americans arriving in Europe now-a-days without first asking permission of Uncle Sam are, occasionally, sailors who ship out of American ports under careless skippers. As soon as they set foot on European shores they are arrested and held until their ship leaves for a neutral port.

But the old pre-war brand of extradition, which provided its almost daily yarn for American and European papers, is dead.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Smith Hall, winner of the Victoria Cross for saving the life of Captain Learoyd last summer, was the guest of honor at Learoyd's wedding.

Prepared to fight spread of the white pine blister disease that threatens $365,000,000 worth of timber in New England and other northwestern states, delegates to the International Conference of the American Forestry Association gathered at Washington Thursday.

Quarantines to check the dreadful disease were suggested by experts in attendance. By these white pine seedlings and currant and gooseberry bushes on which the fungus feeds would not be permitted to be shipped from infected states. This method has met with the approval of the Department of Agriculture, which has urged a quarantine to protect $105,000,000 worth of sugar pines in western states.

Miss Irene Jones is quite ill at her home, 1543 West Seventh street, her friends will be sorry to learn.

Charles M. Wood of 740 Verdugo Road left Monday by auto to make a few days' visit in San Diego.

J. H. Cowman, new pharmacist at Spohr's Drug Store, has leased the residence at 764 S. Central avenue and moved to Glendale from Long Beach Monday.

Mrs. Margaret Eberline and Miss Florence Broyce of Santa Ana visited at the home of Mrs. Anna L. Smith of 1427 Riverdale drive Monday evening and Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davis and son, Kenneth, of Aurora, Illinois, are here to spend a few months at the home of Mrs. Dora H. Glazier, 900 Lomita avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Davis spent some time in Glendale last winter and were here a part of last summer.

Mrs. O. J. Merrill, who recently returned from Joplin, Mo., purchased the Flower Apartment business from Mr. Martin and is now in possession of the apartments. Mrs. Merrill says that there is a great influx of people into Glendale and that every room is filled.

Mrs. Sally Braden of 502 Arden avenue was installed as prelate of the Royal Court of the Amaranths in Los Angeles Monday night. She was accompanied to the installation meeting by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Mrs. E. L. Parke and Miss Grace Case. The installation ceremonies were very beautiful and were followed by a very pleasing musical program.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll entertained at luncheon for Dr. Margaret Shallenberger McNaught at her home, 1635 Kenneth road, Monday. Dr. McNaught is state commissioner for elementary education. Other guests of Mrs. Tolls' were Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, Richardson D. White, who is supervising principal of the Glendale schools, and Mrs. White, and Mrs. N. C. Kelley, chairman of education of the Parent-Teacher association. The morning was spent in visiting the grammar schools of our city and in the afternoon Mrs. Toll and her guests went to the high school to hear Dr. McNaught deliver a splendid address on educational legislation.

BARACA'S REORGANIZATION

At a meeting of the Baraca Class of the First M. E. church, held at the home of Mr. J. F. McBryde, 1214½ W. Broadway, Monday evening, January 22, the class was reorganized. It was thought advisable to do this as the married men of the class had formed a class of their own. The following officers were elected at last night's meeting: president, J. F. McBryde, vice-president, Paul Pierce, secretary, Herbert Matthiesen, treasurer H. Potter, press agent, D. Lawrence Anderson. At the close of the business meeting a delightful hour was spent at the Dolly Varden Confectionery by the following young men: Dr. Ralph Lusby, Mark and Harry Francy, Doty L. Anderson, Herbert Potter, Paul Pierce, Herbert Matthiesen and the host for the evening, James McBryde. This new class, which will be taught by Lawrence Ellis, extends a cordial invitation to all young men of Glendale who are not members of any class, to meet with them on Sabbath mornings. There will be a business meeting next Thursday evening, February 1. Place of meeting announced later.

CONTRACT LET FOR KALEM STUDIO

The contract for the erection of the new $10,000 Kalem studio was yesterday awarded to Clarence O. Smith, a local contractor living at 1566 Hawthorne street. George Staub was given the cement and drainage contract. This building is the first unit of a modern plant which will be completed with the coming of spring and good weather.

snipers were waiting to pick us off. But we were too quick in throwing and could retreat too fast, when the enemy was after us. The "Hero" of the day was Mr. H. Latter, the young banker, when he saved the life of one of the gallant soldiers of his ranks, namely M. Z. Brown. This young soldier was running at breakneck speed down a 62 per cent. grade in an attempt to get away from one of those white cannon balls. But when he started to put on the brakes he found they would not work or hold in the loose dirt. The young banker, who was ahead of this coming comet, turned and saw his pal descending the grade at about 100 miles an hour. The banker then made ready to stop this procedure, but neither one came to a halt until they were looking over a deep ravine several hundred feet below them.

The reward which the Hero received was a very pleasant smile from the face of his young "Pal." The five knights then made their way to their battle-scarred Flivver and never stopped until they reached their tents for the night. Many pictures were taken by the Beldin tribe and Corporal Brown which will prove the gallantry of the detachment.

CLUB LADIES VISIT ROME

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club held its regular meeting with Mrs. Turck on Glendale avenue Monday afternoon with a large attendance. There were a number of fine papers and talks given by the different members. Mrs. Whitcome's paper on Nero was exceptionally good, and she traced the career of this ruling monster from the time of his accession to the throne to his tragic death. She talked of other Romans of note—fine men they were, too—and she brought out the point forcibly that Saul of Tarsus was the finest Roman of them all, and that his influence has been felt through all the succeeding ages. Mrs. Glenwood Jones told of the influence that Rome has exercised on all other nations along artistic lines, and also gave a vivid and most interesting description of the Capitoline museum and its treasures, notably the Dying Gaul, Capitoline Venus and the busts of the emperors. Mrs. Hearnshaw followed with a talk on Michelangelo, that giant of artists, who towers above all who came before or after him. She treated her subject in a most masterly and pleasing manner. Mrs. Chase then talked of Raphael. She did her subject ample justice, showing Raphael to be Michelangelo's direct opposite in nature and in the treatment of his work. For while the latter was always strong and virile, Raphael was ever gentle and beauty with him was a ruling passion. All talks were illustrated with photographs and some curios were shown. Mrs. Menzo Williams added much to the afternoon by her personal reminiscences and the showing of her collection of beautiful postcards. Mrs. Turck described St. Peter's church, the Vatican, and the funeral of that grand old man, Pope Leo XIII., who was so beloved by Catholics and Protestants alike. Mr. and Mrs. Turck were living in Rome at the time of his death and attended the funeral services, and the personal touch thus given the talk, which was illustrated by photographs taken at the time, added greatly to the interest of this memorable event. Tea was then served and a social half-hour followed and all pronounced the afternoon a happy and a profitable one.

is in surrendering the heart to God, and trusting him for protection in the hour of trouble just ahead. America will not escape the trouble, he said, but the scenes now being enacted in Europe will yet be seen here. "To-day God's mercy is extended to all," he said in closing. "Soon the tempest will break in all its relentless fury upon the earth. Let all find Christ now before it is too late."

Saturday night Miss Henrietta Hughes rendered a soprano solo. Sunday night Mr. C. H. Jones rendered "Jerusalem" as an illustrated song. Last night Evangelist Knox spoke on "Christ's Great Prophecy," and special music was a part of the program. Stereopticon views on the life of Christ weer also shown, and uqestions answered.

"White haired men and women now living upon the earth will not all die before Christ comes to the earth in the clouds with power and great glory," said Evangelist Philip L. Knox, in his discourse at Evangel Hall, 115 South San Fernando Road, last night on "Signs of Christ's Coming." A large crowd has been assembled every night to hear Evangelists Knox and Andross. To-night at 7:45 Mr. Andross will speak on "God's Fiats in Great Crises." Ernest Lloyd will render a baritone solo.

Mr. Knox read to his audience last night the words of Christ in Matthew 24:34. "This generation shall not pass till all these things be fulfilled." "The generation here spoken of is alive upon the earth to-day," he said, "and the last of the events mentioned in the chapter, and the only one yet to be fulfilled, is the coming of Christ. As we read the first part of this chapter in Matthew we learn what the signs were.

"It was a short time before his crucifixion that the apostles asked Christ the question, 'What shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the world?' Looking into the future with prophetic vision Christ spoke of a time of great tribulation for his church, 'such as never was since the beginning of the world to this time, nor ever shall be.' He added, 'Except those days shall be shortened there shall no flesh be saved, but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.' This same time of trouble is spoken of by the prophet Daniel. For 1260 years from 538 to 1798 the period was to extend. But Christ said it would be shortened. History records that the last martyr was killed in 1776. However, during that long period, known as the Dark Ages, one hundred million Christians were destroyed.

"Mark 13:24 records that in this conversation between Christ and the apostles, mentioned in Matthew 24, Christ said that 'in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not give her light.' Thus he pointed out definitely that the darkening of the sun and moon would be between 1776 and 1798. History shows this event to have taken place May 19, 1780.

" 'Our First Century, Great and Memorable Events,' by R. M. Devens, says on page 89 of this: 'Almost, if not altogether alone, as the most mysterious and as yet unexplained phenomenon of its kind, in nature's diversified range of events, during the last century, stands the Dark Day of May 19, 1780, a most unaccountable darkening of the whole visible heavens and atmosphere in New England, which brought intense alarm and distress to multitudes of minds, as well as dismay to the brute creation, the fowls fleeing, bewildered to their roosts, and the birds to their nests, and the cattle returning to their stalls.'

"Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, edition of 1869, says, 'the true cause of this remarkable phenomenon is not known.'

" 'Our First Century' says on page 94 that on the following night, although the moon was in the full, 'a sheet of white paper, held within a few inches of the eyes was equally invisible with the blackest velvet.' 'That this darkness was not caused by an eclipse, is manifest by the various positions of the planetary bodies at that time, for the moon was more than 150 degrees from the sun all that day.'

"The next event Christ predicted as a sign was that the stars should fall from heaven 'as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.' This wonderful event occurred November 13, 1833. In Volume 3, page 113, of Thomas Dick's Works, we read of the stars on that night that 'they fell thick as the flakes of the early snows of December. The whole heavens seemed in motion and never before has it fallen to our lot to observe a phenomenon so magnificent and sublime. On pages 114 and 115 Dr. Dick describes the meteors as having come from a central point in the heavens, shooting out therefrom in all directions. They were seen by persons living on all parts of the world that was turned upward toward them at that time.

"Of those who see the last of these signs, Christ said they would not all die until he should come. There are persons living who saw the falling of the stars, but they are now white-haired. Some of them will be living when he appears. We live to-day in the time between the fulfillment of the last sign given by Christ and the momentous event which these omens foreshadowed. Every prediction has been fulfilled in minutest detail, and we cannot doubt but that the entire prophecy will meet its complete fulfillment."

"SILVER" CONVENTION

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

To Be Held in Glendale March 16, 17 and 18

By Joseph A. Wilson, Press Superintendent of Los Angeles County C. E. Union.

It is just about two months now until the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union will gather in Glendale for their twenty-fifth annual county convention. How they all look forward to these conventions and feel that they are the crown for their efforts put forth in Christian Endeavor work during the past year. Three days of closer fellowship with each other, the inspiration of the sessions and the new and bigger visions of their Master always fills them with greater desire to be of more service to Him.

They all hope to make this their "silver convention" the best yet and Glendale will see some three thousand of them all in dead earnest. The committee in charge has all the plans well under way and assure the Endeavorers that they will find a hearty welcome from the Glendale people.

The theme chosen is "Complete in Him," Colossians 2.10, and the program committee is to be congratulated upon the splendid program that has been planned.

The Quiet Hour Department is arranging prayer calendars that will be mailed to all the Endeavorers in the county a month previous to the convention with suggestions for prayer for the interest of the convention. It is the desire of the executive that the convention may be preceded by a great season of prayer, for we realize that it is through this channel that we receive our strength and guidance in the work.

Although the convention time is close at hand, big plans have been made for the extension work this month. The executive members are to go out in teams to organize new societies and the various superintendents expect to report big gains in their respective departments.

Christian Endeavor Week will be a grand climax for the month. Practically all the state plans have been accepted and letters urging that they make good use of them have been mailed to every society in the county.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

"The Private Detective," is Evangelist Habbick's subject to-night at 7:30. To-morrow evening the closing of the series of meetings. Subject: "All in." There will be no meetings on Thursday night, but on Friday night at 7:30 Dr. Pratt of Pasadena will deliver the Preparatory sermon. The public is cordially invited.

Communion service and reception of new members will occur Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock.

Reception to new members will be held Thursday evening, February 1st.

The "People's Bible Class" will again take up the study of Romans, Friday, February 2nd, 7:45, under the leadership of Dr. J. R. Pratt.

WANTED HELP

On Friday, January twenty-sixth, at the Palace Grand Theatre, the Parent-Teacher Association of the Columbus avenue school will hold a benefit and we need your assistance on that date to make it a success. The play will be Prudence—the Pirate, and will feature the dainty film star, Gladys Hulette.

IMMIGRATION NOTE

The Kalem companies are all to move West, those of New York and Florida shortly planning to join the Glendale studio. A big piece of ground adjoining the Kalem plant has been purchased, and large studios are to be erected thereon. It is estimated that the move means the addition of some 400 people to the Southern California motion-picture colony.—L. A. Times, Jan. 16. 1917.

I am told by one who knows that the bringing of these companies to Glendale will mean a weekly payroll of approximately $20,000 most of which will be spent in Glendale if these people live here, which it is hoped they will. I claim that Glendale is unprepared at the present time to supply that number of people with salable or rentable houses and apartments; so it is up to some enterprising vacant lot owners to get busy and build as soon as possible. Possibly the man who bought the old Thom packing house and adjacent lots has this in mind, but one man building will not be enough. If we want these 400 newcomers who are, as a rule, good spenders, we must prepare for them and in such a way that will entice them.—Contributed.

WORTH THIRTY

"Miserly offered the man who saved his life half a dollar."

"Yes, but he handed miserly twenty cents change."—Christian Register.

"Happiness," said Uncle Eben, "is de ability to forget about de shower in admirin' de beauty of de rainbow."—Washington Star.

GRATITUDE

"My friend, I fear you are slightly in error."

"Permit me to shake your hand, sir."

"But why?"

"You are the first man I ever argued with who didn't tell me I was all wrong."

HE GOT THE DUCKS

An official in one of the largest manufacturing concerns in Philadelphia recently showed me the huge plant. I marveled at the labor-saving machinery, Girard writes in the Philadelphia Ledger.

"One of our workmen," said he, "has made a great many of the improvements you see in this room. He likes to go duck shooting, and while off on a trip for a week or more he thinks out some new way to save labor."

After a moment's pause he added: "Why, he turned up one day with a plan whereby we save $50,000 a year."

"And what," I inquired, "does that workman get out of it?"

"Oh," replied the happy official, "he gets the ducks."

But a workman such as he will one day go gunning for an industrial duck of his own worth more than $50,000.

THE GOSPEL OF SAFETY

There is a new industrial philosophy abroad. The new word is: "Nothing is so valuable economically as the man." The stronger, the longer-lived, the happier, the more ambitious he is, the better for mankind. Injury and death are the fruits of ignorance, recklessness and greed. A death toll is no part of a properly managed industry. It is wasteful. The saving of life thus becomes an industrial issue. In more than one American industry it has become a gospel—a gospel which, defended as a sound economic policy, is practiced with the whole-heartedness and zeal of a religion.—Miss Ida M. Tarbell.

The late Lord Minto used to tell a story about a famous art connoisseur who once sat next to a rather illiterate alderman at a public banquet. In the course of conversation the alderman mentioned that his grandfather had known the great Napoleon. "Indeed!" said the other. "That's very interesting-" "Yes," the alderman went on "And I still have the fine snuffbox that Napoleon gave him. It has a hen in diamonds on the lid." "A hen!" exclaimed the other. "Oh, I see! You probably mean an eagle—the imperial eagle?" "No," insisted the alderman. "It's a hen plain enough. I've got it with me. Look!"—and he pulled from his pocket a splendid gold box with an "N" in brilliants on the lid.

USUAL EXPLANATION

"Before the recent election Mr. Twobble said his victory was assured."

"Yet, he was badly defeated. How does he account for that?"

"He says it was due to a combination of circumstances over which he had no control."

"Meaning."

"He didn't get enough votes."

UNFAVORABLE EXPERIENCE

"What's your idea of a scientist?"

"The only one I ever met," replied Mr. Growcher, "was of the kind that use words of six syllables to explain that they don't know something."

VERY SLOW

"Do you drink coffee," asked the doctor of an aged patient.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Coffee," continued the M. D., "is a slow poison."

"Yes, very slow," replied the old man. "I have taken it daily for nearly eighty years."—London Answers.

DANGER IN SIGHT

The cat settled himself luxuriously in front of the kitchen range and began to purr. Little Dolly, who was strange to the ways of cats, regarded him with horror.

"Oh, gram'ma, gram'ma," she cried, "come here quick. The cat's begun to boil."—Christian Register.

CAUSTIC

"Did you see my sunburst last night?" inquired the pompous Mrs. Rich of her poorer neighbor. "No, I didn't," said the neighbor caustically; "but I certainly thought he would if he ate another bite."

RIGHTLY PLACED

The editor was pretty mad.

"Are you the chump who wrote up that recruiting ball?" he said to the quaking reporter. "Oh, you are? Well, look here, 'Among the prettiest girls in the room was Colonel Oldnut.' Nice rubbish, that is. The colonel's a man, I suppose, isn't he?"

"He may be," said the reporter, brazenly, "but that is where he was."

AT THE WEDDING

"You know, the beginning of the happy pair's acquaintance was when he offered her an umbrella to keep her new hat from getting ruined."

"I see. He was her rain beau and that is why she carried a shower bouquet."

A little girl who was trying to tell a friend how absent-minded her grandpa was said: "He walks around, thinking about nothing, and, when he remembers it, he then forgets that what he thought of was something entirely different from what he wanted to remember."

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN

have been certified to before justices of the peace in New York. It might have happened any way, you say? I am not here to say. I am giving you the facts.

The sin against the Holy Ghost comes under the head of blasphemy. And what is blasphemy? Impious or profane or mocking speech concerning God. Expressed contempt for the personality or authority of God. You will notice that the Scribes and Pharisees said this of the Spirit—God's Spirit—the Spirit which animated Jesus in his good work: "And the Scribes which came down from Jerusalem said HE HATH BEELZEBUB AND BY THE PRINCE OF THE DEVILS CASTETH HE OUT DEVILS. In short: They said that the Holy Spirit was the Devil. This is a most serious and unpardonable blasphemy. Some blasphemies, such as loose remarks about God, which one may make in careless talk and swearing, are blasphemous, but are pardonable, for we read: "Verily I say unto you, all sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, . . . but he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation." This has a deeper meaning than denying the Deity of Christ, for some who have are now rejoicing in sins forgiven; although the sin against the Holy Ghost comprises the denial of the Deity. In explanation we can go no further than the Scripture allows, LISTEN: "Because they said, he hath an unclean spirit."

It is a different sin than that of dying in unbelief, although that settles the soul's destiny. It is a sin that, no doubt, the scribes and others who commit it, lived many years after crossing that dark line, but never found a place of mercy in the mind of God for, being hardened, they sought it not. It is the sin which changes the heart to stone, as to God. Any person who fears he has so sinned and fearfully seeks pardon, has not so transgressed; for those whose die is cast are immediately indifferent as to their state. The blessed Holy Spirit, by their sin, being withdrawn from His office work of convicting of sin. They are now morally unable. This does not mean they are irreligious; they may be so, but often they seek other religions without the element of God and judgment in them.

A tender conscience about sin and a sorrowful heart for sin against God, is the Holy Spirit's work in drawing the soul to God for mercy and forgiveness. However, let me warn myself, as well as you, that every sin belongs to the same family, and is against God; and if continued may bring a soul to that state of sinning against the Holy Ghost.

A person who has commited the unpardonable sin is in the condition when the glory of God shines upon him, as that produced when the morning sun shines upon a corpse that lies in the east window. When men lie dead in the house the morning bell calls them not; they do not hear the children upon the stairs calling "breakfast is ready." Their ears are deaf to the sweet sound of birds out of doors. The beauty dispersed all abroad their eyes do not behold.

When conscience is dead, it is death indeed.

A man may cut away every mast and yet pursue his voyage. A man may have everything on deck carried overboard and yet make some headway.

A man in the middle of the ocean can afford to lose everything else better than he can afford to lose the compass in the binnacle; when that is gone he has nothing to steer by. That little instrument is his best friend; it is his guide. Be in love with your conscience, and let your conscience be in love with God.

WHEN COBB REBELLED

Irvin S. Cobb is an enthusiastic duck-hunter. The exacting likes and dislikes of a wild duck, though, have never ceased to annoy him.

On a recent trip to the Great South Bay his favorite guide and friend, Tom Roberts, instructed him to discard a dark-colored mackinaw of which Cobb was very proud.

"It's too dark in color," the guide explained, "and will show up too prominently in the blind. A duck could see that a mile off."

As daylight came Roberts also noticed that the writer had protected his neck with a reddish-colored muffler.

"You'd better take that off, too," he advised; and Cobb reluctantly removed the offending bit of color.

"Look here, Tom," he said in disgust. "Things have come to a pretty pass when a common, ordinary duck can get me up at this time in the morning and then dictate to me what I shall wear!"—Bozeman Bulger.

Facts and Comment

The Anaheim Sugar Company has completed plans for increasing the capacity of its plant from 8000 tons of beets daily to 12,000 tons daily. This will mean a considerable increase in the acreage of growing beets.

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce committee, having charge of the arrangements for the second annual Long Beach carnival of states, plan to hold the event some time in April instead of the summer. It will be on a more elaborate scale this year than last and it is expected that a large majority of the commonwealths of the Union will be represented with floats.

Fire broke out in Phillips primary school at Covina Friday where 200 little tots were busy with their daily lessons. Prompt action on the part of the teachers prevented a tragedy, the children marching out in an orderly manner from the building although the rooms were filled with smoke The blaze was caused by an overheated air shaft connected with a distillate-burning furnace, and the firemen soon extinguished the flames.

The Southern Pacific is having built for the Pacific Fruit Express 2700 new refrigerator cars to be delivered next April in time for the last of the orange and the beginning of the deciduous fruit crop. This will bring the total refrigerator equipment of the Pacific Fruit Express up to 15,500 cars and will prevent a repetition of the car shortage of 1916. The cars are to be of a special model worked out by the company and government experts and are designed to enable growers to send fruit and vegetables east in sound condition.

The apportionment of vacant lots in Van Nuys for cultivation and care of the street trees and parking in front of the lots, was made by the Chamber of Commerce of that city last week. This method of keeping Van Nuys looking presentable was adopted by the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce several years ago and has been very successful. Many non-resident owners who desire to escape the city weed tax are only too willing to have their property taken care of in this manner. No charge is made for the use of the lots and all that can be raised goes to the person in charge for the care and attention. Instead of weed patches, there are gardens. Beans, pumpkins, melons, potatoes, alfalfa, vegetables and other crops are grown.

FLOOD CONTROL

A few important reasons why citizens of Los Angeles county should vote for the flood control bonds February 20:

It will build a system of check dams in the mountains and reservoirs that will store and conserve the flood waters for useful and beneficial purposes.

It will guarantee harbor protection, conservation and flood control in the most efficient manner and for the least cost.

It will conserve for future generations of Los Angeles county, millions of dollars of assessed valuations, and thus reduce the rate of taxation for all purposes.

It will enable the City of Los Angeles to obtain the Federal appropriation of $1,080,000 for harbor development, already made, that cannot be used until rights of way and maintenance charges are provided, which will be financed by this bond issue.

It will prevent the tie-up of business in the City of Los Angeles by flood damage to railway lines and highways, such as caused a loss to the business interests and wage earners of Los Angeles in February, 1914, conservatively estimated to be at least $2,500,000 or more than one-half of the proposed bond issue.

It will provide official channels from the mountains to the ocean, so that all flood protection work can be done hereafter on one general plan instead of the piecemeal work of the past, upon which a great deal of money has been wasted in this county.

It will bring eastern capital into the county to be distributed among the wage-earners, who will be used in larger numbers than on any project since the building of the Los Angeles aqueduct, which means greater prosperity for the entire community.

It will conserve and protect, both for present and future generations, the citrus-growing and agricultural lands of Los Angeles county, upon which the growth and prosperity of the whole community is founded.

It will prevent an average yearly damage now caused by floods to the harbors, highways, private property and business interests of Los Angeles county which now nearly equals the amount of the proposed bond issue.

It will insure at once those great community ends, harbor protection, conservation of water resources, conservation of soil resources, and the removal of the menace of floods which destroy public and private property, interrupt communication, paralyze business, and solve the problem of flood protection without resorting to special assessments, which would prove impractical, unjust and extravagant for this class of work.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY VI. TOWN PERSONALITY

It is self-government which develops Personality in an individual citizen. An aggregation of such individual citizens comprises a Town; which, also, develops its own Personality by self-govenrment, the PRIMARY DUTY of the individual, whether a human being or a collection of human beings forming a Town.

But back of that primary duty are several things.

1. A consciousness of existing conditions, and their inter-relations.

2. The Power of Receiving and Giving out whatever be available for growth and betterment.

3. Some definite understanding of the PRIMARY OBJECT for which the individual citizens yielded up certain personal rights, and assumed certain duties necessary to organize them into a Town.

4. A definite determination that such Primary Object shall be substantially carried out for the general good; or if not, know and make public the reason why.

5. It is evident, right here, that one essential to good town government, is an intelligent, appreciative, fearless Press, run in the interests of the Town as a whole—not merely for some particular portion thereof.

Such conditions assured, the growth of a strong PERSONALITY is a natural, certain result; and all citizens soon realize that a perfect Town government means "All for One, and Each for All."

The day has passed when an intelligent citizen really believes that a whole community can be unfairly exploited by one individual or a few, for selfish ends, "and get away with it," as that slangy expression so aptly puts it.

Many still try it, in spite of the fact that the experience of the ages is against it. "SOMETHING FOR NOTHING" is against the law of God, man and Nature. Whoever violates that law will sooner or later realize the relentless truth spoken by the fearless prophet of old, when he bearded the king in his palace and said: "Be sure your sin will find you out."

Numbers of participants in a civic wrong will merely add to the sum of evil consequences and the work of retributive justice, whether by a Town, a County, a State, a Section of country, or a Nation.

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of civic wisdom also.

We admit those statements are platitudes. But we are attempting a fair, just and honest study of PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT, and it is necessary for a proper analysis of the subject that we begin with the true, basic foundation, which must be laid on the solid rock of TRUTH, and not upon mere shifting sands of subterfuge and false pretense.

The fact that Glendale is what and all that it is, proves that its founders and promoters were actuated by these very principles.

Doubtless more than one of them recall the old pioneer days in certain mining camps of the Golden State, where any merchant could leave his merchandise open to the public, with the prices marked thereon, and go away for hours. Whoever came to buy would put down the price, help himself honestly to what he paid for and go his way. When the merchant returned, that day or the next week, whatever belonged to him would surely be there waiting for its owner.

Yes, of course, that was before the days of auto-bandits; but a different condition of trade developed long before the auto appeared. "Such business would be absurd now," says the keen trader, who always looks for trouble (and generally finds it).

Yet, a great restaurant in the east is run successfully on that plan, practically. You help yourself to what you want, with no detective watching you; then pay the cashier at the exit. You could cheat, if you would, and nothing would be done to you (except by your own conscience).

Furthermore, a great candy manufacturing and selling business is now flourishing in the east, built up (by "Mary Elizabeth") on the same principle of giving good value for the price printed on the boxes, left without a salesman, for the public to come and take what it would, and pay or not, as it would. The public loves to be trusted. Why? For the same reason that you do. In the privacy and mutual trust of your family, would you steal from your mother, father, brother or sister, or guest, or even cheat one of them? Of course not. You would not even take credit to yourself for such honesty. Furthermore, you would not suspect anyone of the family or your guest to do what would be so abhorrent to you. (Of course, a kleptomaniac or other morally irresponsible person would be the exception.)

Then suppose that the whole Town of Glendale, everybody in it, were actuated by that common principle, the family slogan, "ALL FOR ONE, AND EACH FOR ALL."

Again the old Mother Goose rhyme would apply. A would begin to do something needed for B. B, in turn, would begin to do something needed for C; and soon "The Whole Works" would be running full blast for mutual benefit.

NO FACT NEED BE LESS THAN THE TRUE THEORY ON WHICH IT IS BASED.

The next study will consider the essentials of PERSONALITY.

During a city election in New York a bunch of trained repeaters marched in an east side polling place.

"What name?" inquired the election clerk of the leader, who was red haired and freckled and had a black eye.

The voter glanced down at a slip of paper in his hand. "Isidore Mendelheim," he said.

"That's not your real name and you know it," said a suspicious challenger for a reform ticket.

"It is my name," said the repeater, "and I'm going to vote under it—see!

From down the line came a voice: "Don't let that guy bluff you, Casey. Soitonly your name is Mendelheim!"

NOTHING DOING

A thin, sickly looking little man entered one of the stores in one of our small towns recently and quietly seated himself on a convenient chair. One of the clerks approached and asked if he wished to purchase anything. "Oh, no," said the man, "I just dropped in for a few minutes." After half an hour had passed, the manager of the store, becoming curious, approached him and asked what could be done for him. "Why, nothing that I know of," said the man. "You see, I have nervous prostration and the doctor told me to stay in a quiet place. Noticing that you do not advertise I thought this would be about the quietest place I could find." Let me tell you it was anything but quiet there for five minutes. The poor little man found himself in the street, wishing that he had landed on a feather bed.

But the next week the store surprised itself with a big display ad. in the home paper.—Zafria Advertiser.

NEVER AGAIN

"As you have stood on the corner looking at a big fine automobile speeding along at forty miles an hour did you ever stop to think—"

"Yes, I did once, and I was in a hospital for six months."

"Your honor, I don't need a lawyer."

"You'd better have one. You may be convicted, you know."

"What I mean, your honor, is that I can be convicted just as well without one."
